

THE ECHO OF 1947

BM

EDITED BY THE SENIOR CLASS
VOLUME XXIX

Foreword

BM

It has been the desire of the Senior Class of Richmond High School to give recognition to the traditional name, SPARTAN. In work, arrangement, and content The ECHO of 1947 has been planned to carry out the Spartan ideals of beauty, simplicity, and strength.

BM

The Spartans of the ancient Greek states were noted for their valor, courage, and bravery. They were especially distinguished for their wonderful perseverance and patience with which they endured every conceivable hardship and suffering.

Richmond High School selected the Spartan as its symbol because of these admirable traits. Each student has striven to make himself worthy of this emblem. He has achieved this ideal by thought, word, and deed in the classroom, on the gridiron — everywhere.

May this symbol, SPARTAN, ever be an inspiration to you and all who enter Richmond High School.

School Flag

The school flag was presented to Richmond High School students at an assembly in February, 1928.

The flag has a red background with a border of white. A white diamond occupies the center of the flag and upon it are the initial letters of the school. Two clasped hands at the top of the diamond represent "association". To the right is a lamp representing "mental development", and to the left is a wreath of victory representing "physical development." The lower part of the diamond has an open book symbolizing "spiritual development." Gold fringe and gold tassels are used for further ornamentation.

The school flag and the American flag occupy prominent places on the stage of our auditorium. We pledge our allegiance to these mighty emblems.

SCHOOL CREED

I realize that, as a student, I owe an obligation to parents or relatives whose sacrifices have given me the foundations upon which I am building, and to the school which offers me the opportunity to develop my natural powers and to become a better citizen of our school and our community.

I therefore believe it is my duty to my school to love it, observe its regulations, cherish its honored traditions, respect its teachers, and defend its good name.

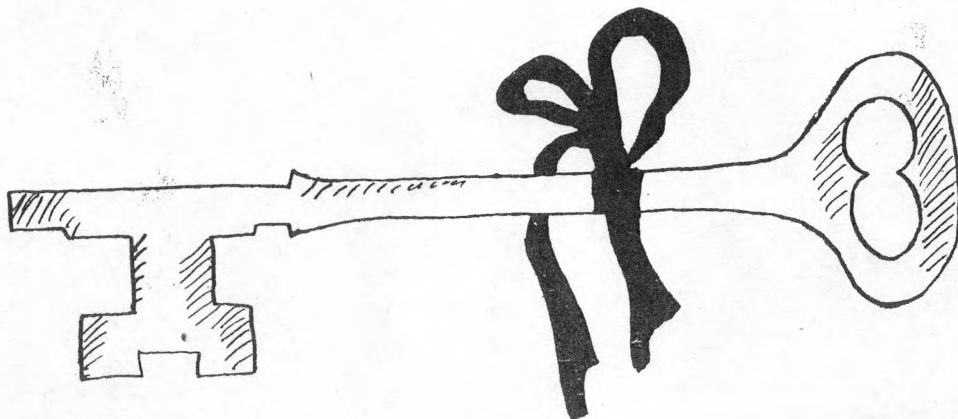

Traditions

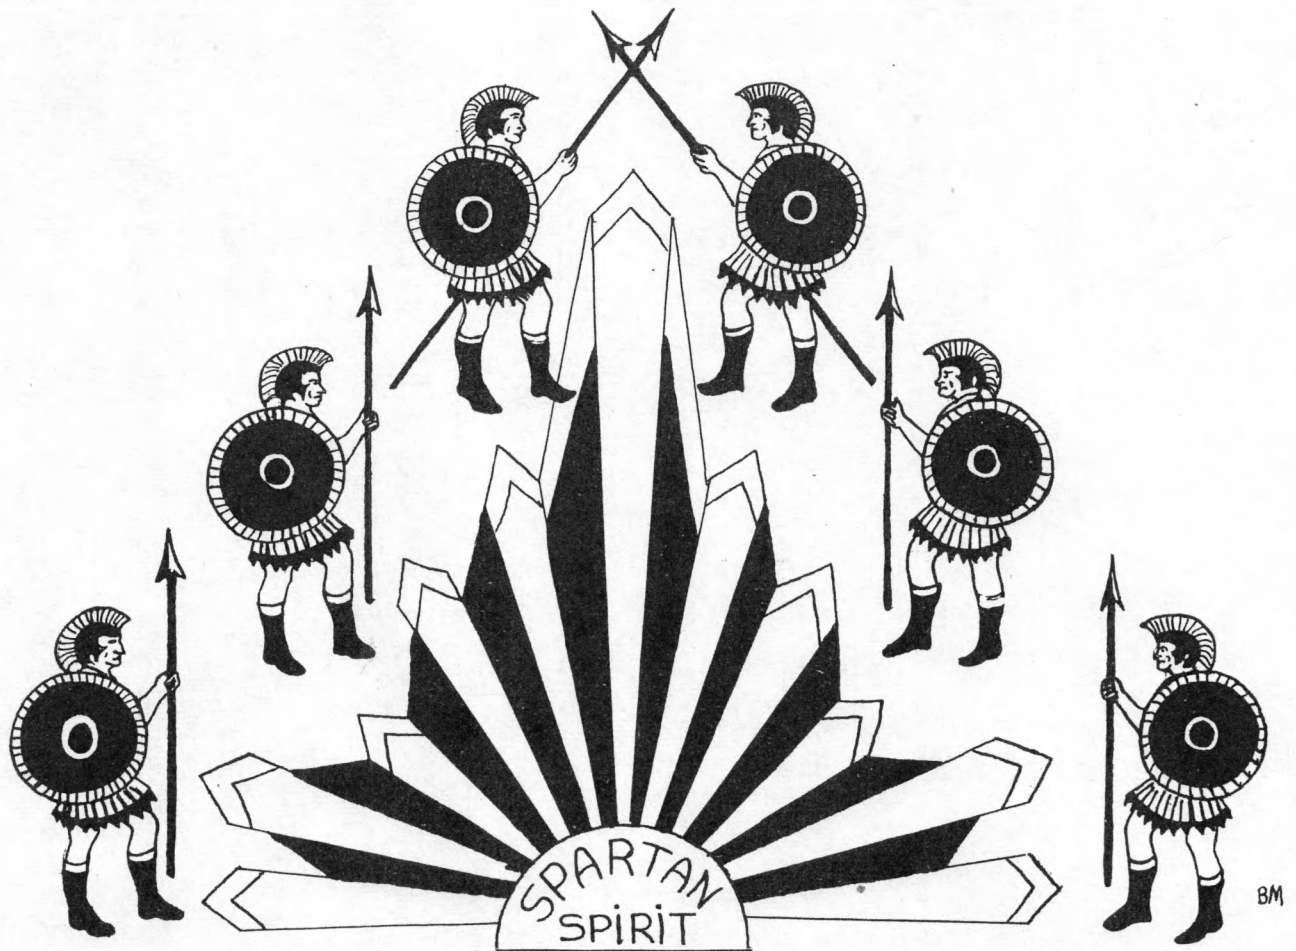

The familiar objects on this page which have become traditions in Richmond High School, make their appearance at the annual senior assembly.

The black felt hat, appearing at the upper right, was the property of Tom Marshall, Class of '29. The brown felt hat on the opposite side of the page belonged to Martha Higdon, Class of '36. These hats were given to worthy members of the junior class who were to be the senior successors the following school year. This custom has been continued from year to year. The silver colored, wooden key ornamented by a red bow is presented to the president of the junior class who in turn carries on the tradition.

These treasured items have been carefully preserved and are duly presented to underclassmen from year to year.

Dedication

Realizing that the spirit which the men of Ancient Spartan days possessed still lives today, and believing that this spirit has ever been a part of the student life of Richmond High School, we dedicate this book to every former, present and future student who is worthy of the name, SPARTAN.

Alma Mater

HIGH SCHOOL SONG

*When the vale of old Missouri
Meets the eastern sky;
Mid the rustling of the treetops,
Stands our good old high.*

*School we love, High School
Live for, aye,
Our Alma Mater dear,
May thy sons be leal and loyal
To thy memory.*

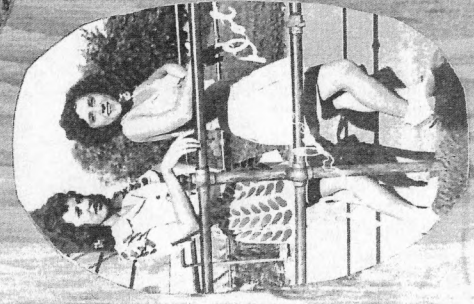

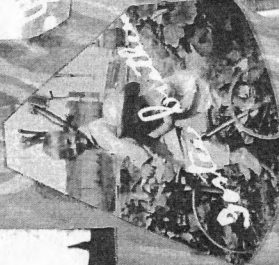

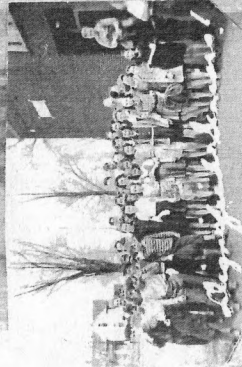

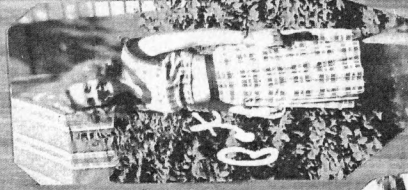

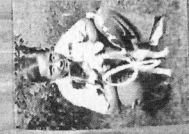

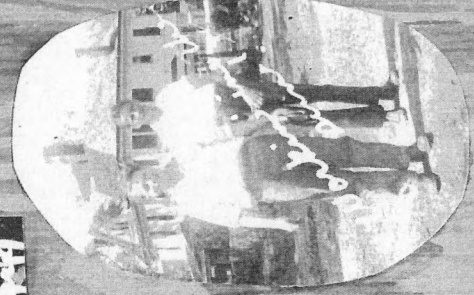

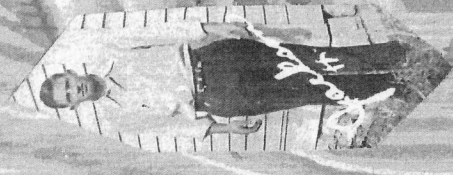

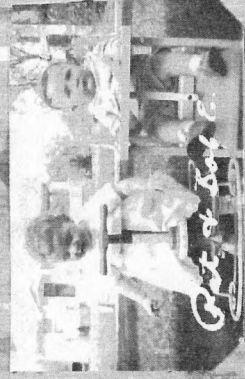

Alma Mater

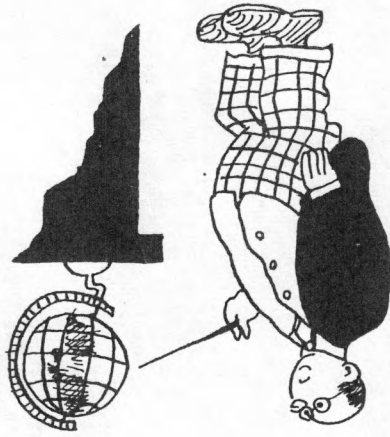

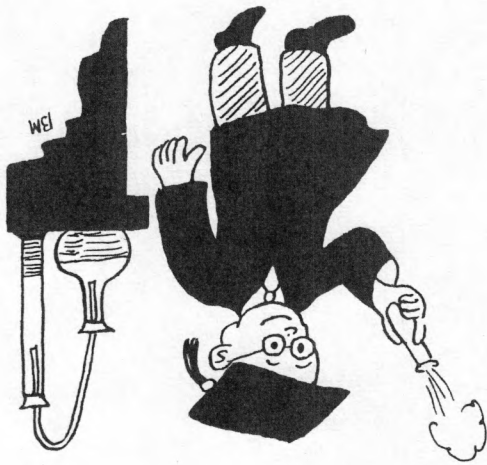

*When the evening twilight deepens,
And the shadows fall;
Linger long the golden sunbeams
On the western wall.*

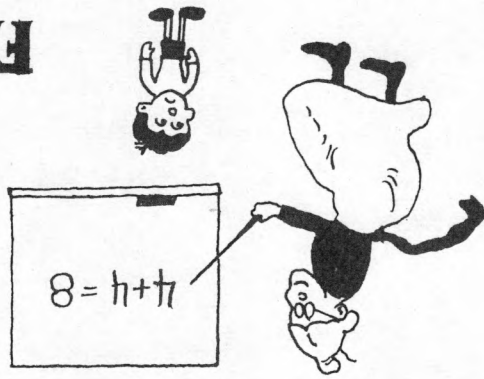

*When the shades of life shall gather,
Dark the heart may be,
Still the rays of youth and love
Shall linger long for thee.*

ACTIVITIES

B. HANLEY

MUSIC

BAND

MR. COLLIER
DIRECTOR

The band of Richmond High School under the direction of Mr. Collier, has always concentrated its attention upon unusual routines during the marching season. This year the band specialized on routines which consisted of spelling.

Among the various activities this year, music clinics and festivals were included. The first music clinic that Richmond has ever held took place in March. This included members from bands all over Ray County. The selections used were the "Overture Americana" by Buchtel, "The Student Prince" by Sigmund Romberg, "Rhapsody in Blue" by Gershwin and "The Thunderer" by Sousa.

The Marshall festival was March 28 and included solos and ensembles. The Chillicothe festival took place April 11 and included a larger number of contestants.

There will be more graduates this year than has been for a long time. Although the fourteen seniors will bid farewell to the band of Richmond High School, it shall remain long in our memories.

CHORUS

MISS MACEY
DIRECTOR

It is said that music is the expression of the soul. Beautiful tones interpret this expression.

The program in chorus is planned to help each individual appreciate and enjoy good music. This is brought about by listening to good music, and by daily study and practice of drills which motivate correct breathing, good tone quality, clear enunciation, and expression.

This year the chorus attended a musical concert given by Rise Stevens-soprano and Alec Templeton-pianist assisted by the K. C. Philharmonic Orchestra.

Also in this year's activities were music festivals. Numbers were entered by the chorus, trio, and sextet.

The group sang selections for church services and various programs.

Music week was observed by presenting a program in the high school auditorium with the chorus, assisted by piano students and the junior high chorus.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS

This is a picture of a regular business meeting of the Richmond Chapter of the F. H. A.

The Richmond Chapter of the F. H. A. began its second year with twenty-five members. The following officers were elected: Judith Borchers, president; Marilyn Dailey, vice president; Dinelia Cox, secretary and treasurer; Dorothy Schooler, parliamentarian, Dorothy Davis, historian; Sally Conner, reporter.

The year's program was planned with the following social highlights: Initiation, Christmas party, Mother and Daughter party, all-school Valentine Dance, and Fashion Show.

The club sold refreshments at the basketball games. The proceeds were used to help redecorate the Home Economics Department.

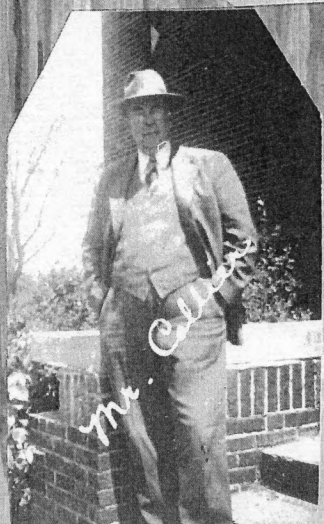

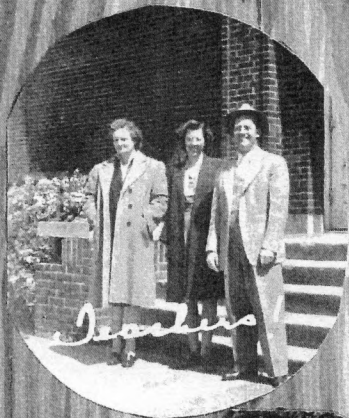

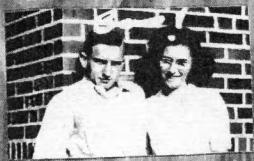

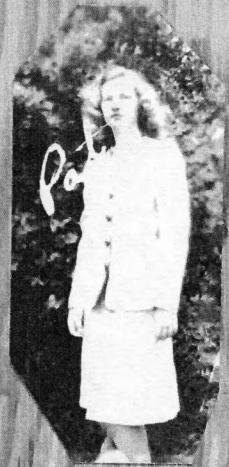

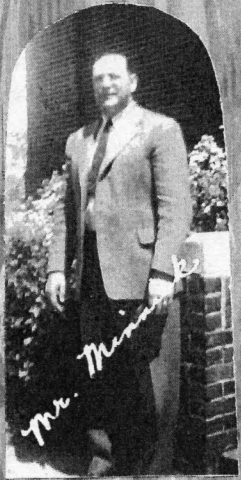

In November, 22 members of the club attended the Northwest District meeting of the F. H. A. in St. Joseph. The club was also represented at the state meeting. The club was responsible for providing a film on grooming shown at the high school during the noon hour.

The students in this picture are studying diligently.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

These two pictures of girls' physical education show the girls doing exercises typical of their class work. Grace and poise, as well as a healthy body, are developed.

The boys' classes are taking exercises perfecting coordination of the muscles. A healthy body is the foundation for an energetic mind.

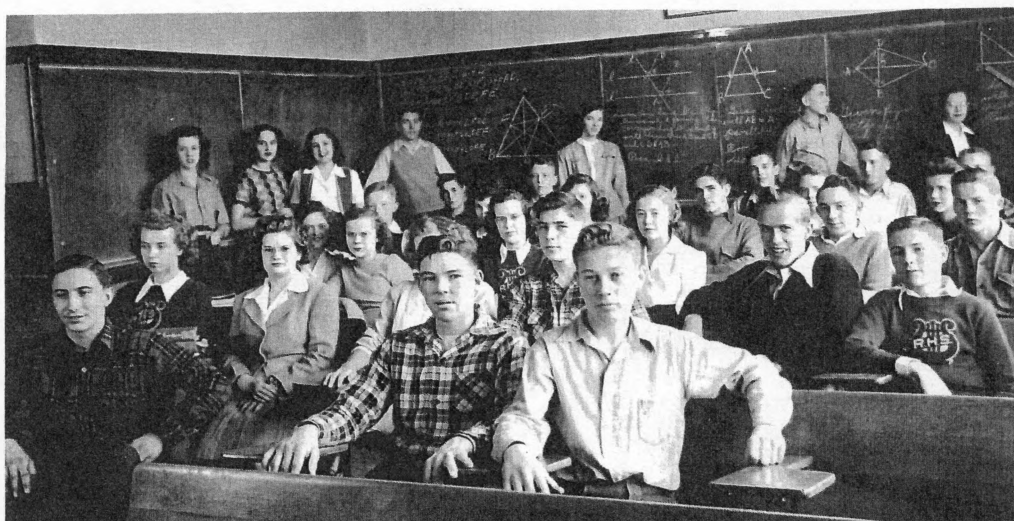

MATHEMATICS

ALGEBRA

An algebra class busily engaged in solving an equation; finding the unknown X .

PLANE GEOMETRY

The plane geometry class is proving theorems. We are expecting great architects and engineers to develop from this group.

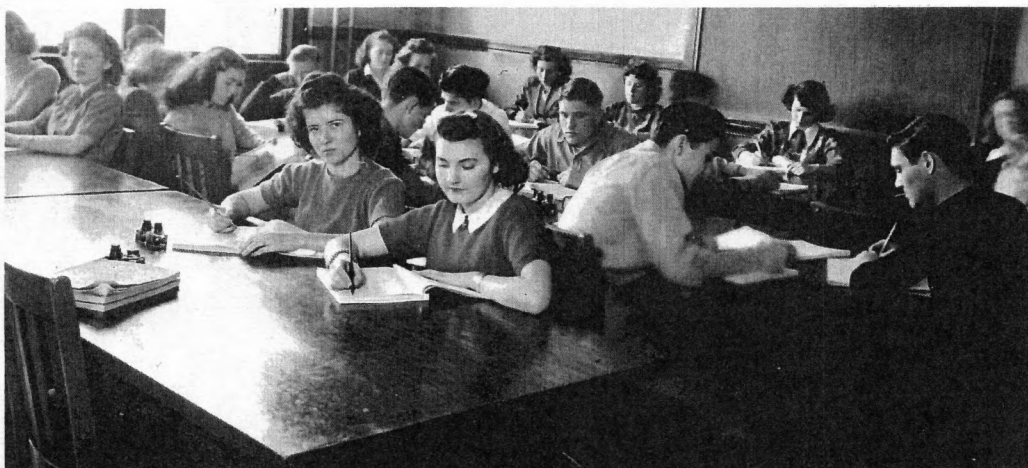

COMMERCIAL SUBJECTS

TYPING

Speed and accuracy are the two essentials in typing. These come with persistent practice. Students from this division can fill positions in the business world.

BOOKKEEPING

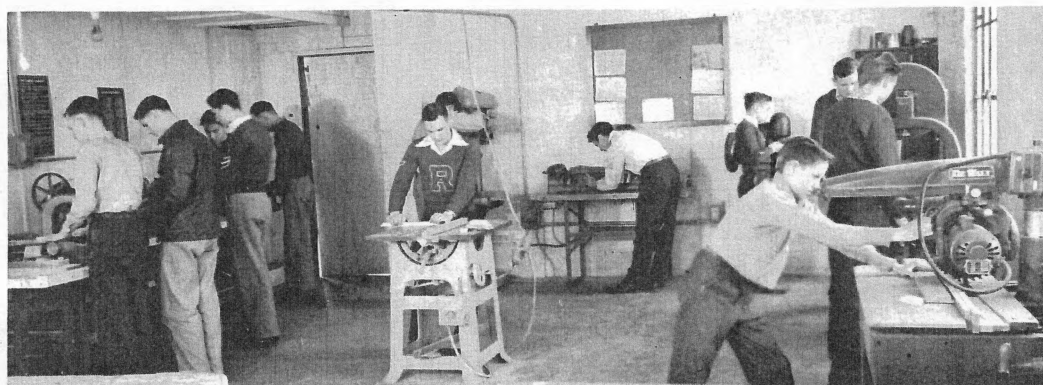

Bookkeeping demands neatness and accuracy on the part of the students. These students are busy developing these talents.

HOME EC.

The girls in the above picture are learning by doing. They learn all the phases necessary for becoming an expert seamstress by cutting, fitting, sewing, and pressing.

The girls in the picture below are practicing the art of cookery. Providing a well-cooked and carefully planned meal is a very essential part of every girl's education.

SHOP

Industrial arts involves a study of the tools, materials, processes, and problems of occupational life in industry. This becomes indispensable to the education of youth when the fact that Missouri is rapidly becoming an industrial state is realized. Roughly one third of those employed are engaged in industrial pursuits, and all are consumers of the products of industry.

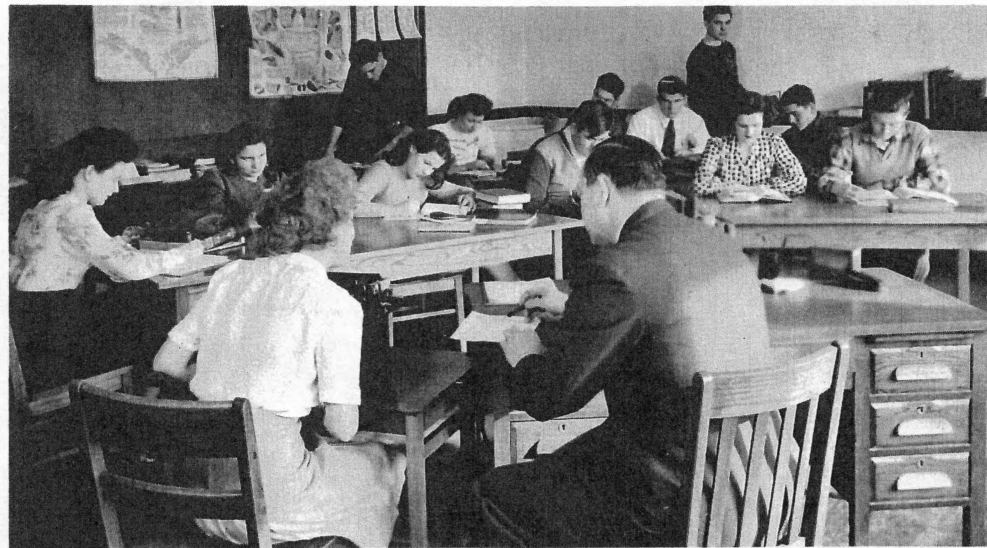

The home mechanics class for girls trains the girls to do many of the so-called odd jobs in the home. Husbands of these girls will be relieved of these duties.

DIVERSIFIED OCCUPATIONS

In these pictures students are working at related assignments to activities performed on the job.

The course in Diversified Occupations provides actual work experience along with the vocational interest of the student under supervision and according to schedule. A co-operative training agreement exists between the student employer; and the school, represented by the co-ordinator.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

CITIZENSHIP

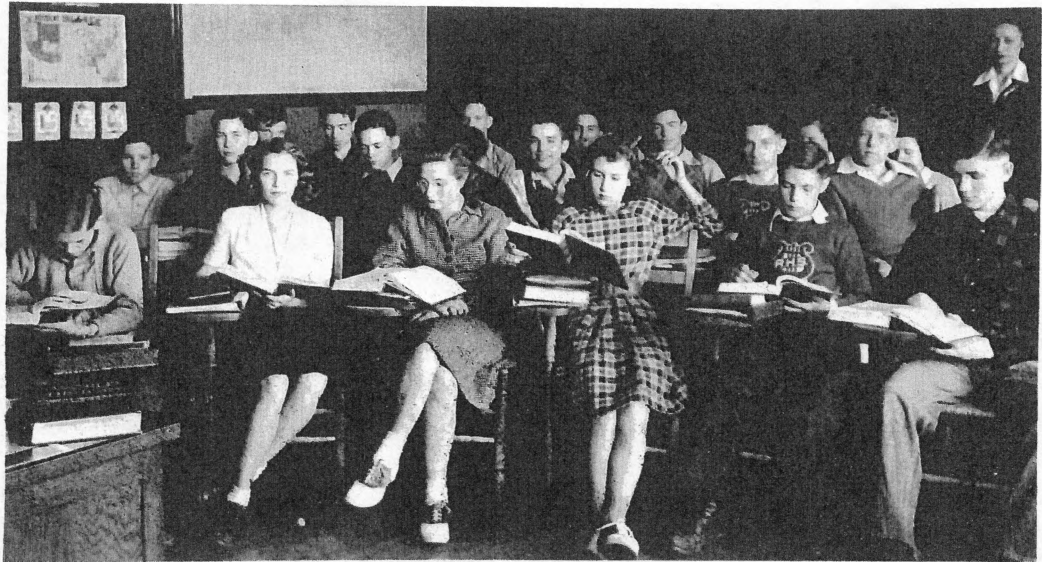

Citizenship is the social science course offered in the ninth grade. It is a course in which the student learns his obligations as a citizen in the school, home, community, state, and country.

AMERICAN HISTORY

American History is the social science course offered in the junior year. The course attempts to give the student a working knowledge of the history and government of our nation.

WORLD HISTORY

The study of World History is to help tenth year pupils to get a clearer understanding of the world in which they live. It is concerned with the development of civilization and with the different contributions of the various cultures. The background of geography has been given due emphasis because of its importance in understanding the events of history by the use of maps.

CITIZENSHIP

The Citizenship instruction presented to the ninth year students this year is based on the five units: the home, school, community, state, and nation. They are developing a due appreciation of the magnificent achievements in our country of our social, economic, political, and cultural standards and procedures.

PHYSICAL SCIENCE GENERAL SCIENCE

This course offers a study of environment and the natural laws that govern our everyday life.

BIOLOGY

The class is testing different kinds of foods for protein, sugar, and starch content.

PHYSICS

With a stop watch and a swinging brass ball the physics students are measuring the pull of gravity. The data compiled from such experiments provides material for much good natured ribbing on laboratory skill.

CHEMISTRY

The chemistry students prepare for the most difficult experiment of the year-the preparation of chlorine gas. Before this experiment is finished all of their laboratory technique will have been given a trial.

ENGLISH

The English IV students study various types of expression. Reading, writing, and speaking all are part of the program.

LATIN

Latin I students learn the elements of the Latin language and study to some extent the culture and background of the Roman world.

CHORAL READING

Choral reading, an art in use in schools since the golden age in Greek development, gives the student confidence and poise in self-expression.

LIBRARIANS

The student librarians render a valuable service to their school by their handling of book circulation and at the same time learn the basis and elementary program of librarianship.

ENGLISH

The Sophomore English Class is studying literature to develop an appreciation and knowledge of the literary masterpieces and their authors.

SPEECH

Martha Lee is giving a talk in Speech class. These students develop self-confidence to face speech situations in life in any form by actual practice. Speech training is becoming increasingly important as society becomes more complex.

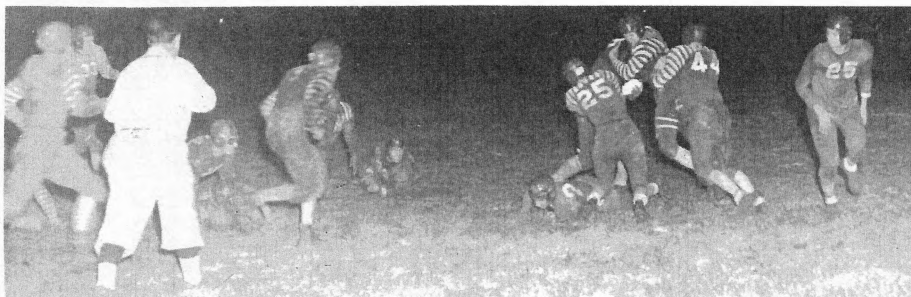

GRIDIRON ACTION

FAREWELL

The time has come when we must bid farewell to Richmond High School and its traditions. We wish to express our gratitude and appreciation for the help and inspiration we have received from the teachers and our fellow students. You will always live in our hearts.

Realizing the task that was ours, we, the Class '47 have cherished and protected the name of SPARTAN through the years. To the Spartans of the future, we leave the destiny of this symbol.
